Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 06 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming brighter and less windy Wednesday, with sunshine and showers.

Today:
On the cloudy side at times, but brighter and less windy on the whole, with the north and west most prone to showers, some heavy and perhaps thundery later. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers dying away quickly through the evening with cloud thinning and clear spells developing before midnight. This will allow the odd mist or fog patch to form later. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Thursday:
Clear spells at first with short-lived mist and fog patches. Scattered showers developing, perhaps turning heavy or thundery over East Anglia. Showers dying out towards evening. Light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Changeable, with further clear or sunny spells but also showers, heavy or thundery at times. Temperatures mostly near normal, with generally light winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.